

Leaving Mount Vernon

A social narrative for where to go when I'm ready to leave Mount Vernon, get food, or visit the museum store.

When I leave the estate, I will pass by the Donald W. Reynolds Museum and Education Center.

The exhibits are loud. Some spaces are dark and some are bright.

To exit, I will walk down a long hallway with big windows.

I will walk through this room. The floor looks like a map.

Sometimes there are many people in this lobby because everyone exits here.

If I'm hungry, I can get food and water outside at the Food Truck, or inside at the Food Court or Mount Vernon Inn.

I will walk past the museum store.

That's all for today! Thank you visiting Mount Vernon!
